th for a while with other EQ's. This EQ is much less colored than the Neve 1071 or 1073, but the filtering is immediately noticable in a most forgiving and *musical* way, even when applied in small amounts.

This is one of those "they'll have to pry it out of my clod, dead hands* kinda' things. I would have paid $250.00 for this without even thinking twice. At $150.00 it's a no brainer.

refund your coupons. All they would have to do is to send you a deauthorization. I bought the Roland Dimension D with my coupons, but I can't live without it either.

I am too. I use it on my old iMac for throwing things together. Easy to use, good user community, etc...

I use other tools now for when I need more realism, but those tools take up a lot more RAM, CPU, cost more, etc than GPO. See my other web site:
<http://www.softsampling.com>

Doug

<http://www.parisfaqs.com>A friend of mine owns this:

<http://www.synful.com/>

I'm thinking about getting it and just layering it under my GPO on the same channel/similar patch in order to enhance the articulation. This proggie RAWX!
