n tell from seeing it right before they bandaged it up for the last time & sent me on my way (damn, it's really hideous-looking, though - YEESH!).
However, it went further back past the base of the nail than they thought, so that took several steps of the procedure to get all of the cancer cell-infested tissue out in that direction... it did take a long time, I went in there at 830am & got out at about 3:00. So, anyway, because of that, the nail (which they had to yank out completely, of course) may or may gt;I'm glad this didn't affect the "playing surface" amigo. That's great news.

You should be back up o speed relatively quick compared to your initial estimates....and if you need painkillers, you can probaly buy herion on the internet.....oh wait!!!.....you live in El Paso. Nevermind.

below page.

The instruction order is critical for a successful XP install.

Was your XP install "fresh" or did you just re-install over windows? A fresh install on a blank drive is best.

I have to keep it up & out of the way, otherwise, the bandage is so big, I'd be hitting like five keys at once :D

Thanks to everyone for all your good wishes - I really appreciate it.
