listing some fabulous features from an >>> audio software whose developers quite obviously are extremely >>> skilled and super creative equals "starting a war".

>>> i can just as well describe to you what i like about protools.

>>> protools has playlists, which is hands down the simplest, >>> most powerful yet most intuitive way of multiple sets of >>> multitrack recording there is. protools has a very nice automation, >>> super precise transient detection thats better than

>>> all of the competition, a nice suite of offline processes >>> and the software, while dull and boring is extremely stable.

>>> now, would you consider me listing these advantages over >>> the competition "starting a war" too? probably not. then >>> answer me this, why would that be different if i listed >>> stuff like that for samplitude?
