chrisl@adkproaudio.com Blah blah blah. Fatigue of the machine age, the emptiness of modernity, blah blah blah. I'm reading a book about the building of the trans-continental railway in the US. I'm sure the indentured Chinese laborers had a much "deeper emotional involvement with music" blah blah blah. Theodor Adorno wrote "The Work of Art in the Age of Mechanical Reproduction" in freaking 1936, so blah blah blah can't we just go find music

I can see the headline now "Internet annoyance jail law causes annoyance"
