that when Paris was originally designed anything past a 1 EDS setup was basically an afterthought. (My personal thoughts on this are that this is why the card to card sync cables are on the daughterboard, not the main PCI card). Once Ensoniq was gone, and Emu came into the picture even less was really known about the product. When the whole Emu/Creative thing came into play, most of the original (if not all) teams to design and understand had been either fired or left employ, and many data sheets mysteriously disappeared. It's quite conceivable that they just didn't know how to handle the first/last card issue.

Good observation about the daughterboard, that would explain a lot.

As far as disappeared - my experience is that stuff that "disappears" during corporate transitions can suddenly and miraculously "reappear", sometimes with nobody having any idea at all where it came from. :D

Not hinting at anything, but definitely keeping my ears open.

- KerryI've done an XP + paris re-install on my mac pro, and am now getting this error.

The title of the window is DBERR!!

"vcd_Open: failed to lock process gestalt memory!!"

After that I get an unhandled exception, and it crashes.

I'm not sure if it's related to the dual core, the expansion chassis or Paris.

Anyway, it seems these errors are shouting at me, but I'm not sure what they are yelling.. can anyone shed some light on what this means?

rive.

I found my old Drive Image 7 cd, so I think first I'll install windows and my bootcamp drivers, then do the windows security updates maybe and ghost the whole thing so I don't have to keep reformatting if I screw it up.

When I had got Paris running on this the other day, I had done the XP updates first before installing all the paris software etc. (I don't think I did the XP service packs), so I'm thinking maybe not doing that this time was contributing to the errors..

Cheers,

Huh??? Bizarre!

- K Ted -

The studio looks like it will be a nice space to work and play. Keep the progress photos coming.

FWIW, I lived in Toronto growing up. We live in 3 apartments off Yonge Street. First at Sherbourne and Wellesley, the second just south of Yonge and St. Clair, and finally just north of Yonge and Eglinton. I lived there from '68 - '74 and attended grades 3 thru 9. My father taught at UT and retired from there in the early 80s.

Sunsets are fantastic and conducive to music making.

Although on the East side (Cabbagetown) It's reno/upscale.

Mike Audet of course lives in TO too.

Peace.

Beautiful, striking space!

OK, I just renovated my one-car garage to be a studio here in Vancouver.

Major envy here :D

Hi TC,

You're seeing this error because you are using a debug build of the PSCL.

I've seen this, too. It means that the scherzo was turned down by Windows for enough memory to create the buffer that the App uses to talk to the hardware.

Have you locked all Scherzo drivers plus all drivers that share an IRQ with the scherzo drivers to the highest number CPU?

That's where I would start. I've attached the inaffinity tool and a tutorial on how to use it to this message. I hope it helps. Let me know.

All the best,

Mike
