Thanks DJ, but I wasn't clear...I meant how to do this using PARIS only.

Ok.....this is done in you native program easily by bussing these = tracks to the appropriate plugin/bus.....

>but I want to be able to use Paris EQ and Trim on the bass >& kick before they are sent over to the 3rd channel for processing.

you would have to lightpipe these tracks from your native app to an = empty Paris channel and process them.....

>Also I don't want the individual Kick and Bass tracks heard in the = mix, just the processed 3rd channel.

.....then return them to a separate bus of the native app via a = Paris insert, have the bus process the track and then output the bus to = yet another empty Paris channel.

This sounds so over the top that I don't think it would be worthwhile. =
It would be far easier to use the Paris VST EQ and a 3rd party tape = emulator plugin in the native app and then just output the bus to a pair = of Paris channels.
