that lets you either hear the sending channel or you can just lower or even mute the sender.

Alos you have a send volume for each sender.

The perfect situation for realtime 0 latency drumbus compressing is to use senderella on each adrumtrack you wanna compress and then on senderella's return track you can apply a Sonalksis DX multiband compressor which is 0 latency !!!

So even a EDS compressor would shift the compressed drums by 2 samples.

I am amzed with Sonalksis 0 latency multiband compressor and 0 latency EQ with the original tracks that also may be using UAD plugs or not?

Also I'd like to use the UAD plate and send more than one thing to it. How do I compensate here?

I think BLUE makes something like these. I bet these choices are a big part of it.
