tied all my locks to structures that exist per card, but you never know until you try. :)

Anything is good, though. I'm setting up timings based on my setup, but another machine may reveal them to be too tight.

Thanks again!

The PSCL is part of the driver. It has several sections that aren't threadasfe, which means they fail on a multi CPU machine. I'm trying to fix it.

All the best,

Mike

Here's a newer build. It doesn't give me the "can't find interface on master card" error anymore.

Cheers!
