What has always held us back has been NNTP with a web client attached. Lots of users here still use NNTP.

It is also possible to reconfigure how the web interface here works to an extent.

I'd love more features on the web side though. Indeed I'd be really happy if we were hosted in more than one place, but it's linking the two together which is the issue. Indeed if other options were around which support both NNTP and web then we could even have two servers running, as they could use NNTP to hang off each other.

Cheers,
Kim.

Who am I to request this? Nobody. Nobody has to do anything because I said so.

But now I've pointed it out, I'm sure everyone in the community will take note of where you now choose to invest your abundant remaining energies today - building things or breaking them.

Do it as penance, or because it's the right thing, or because the community needs it. But show us what you got that's good - not what you think someone else has that isn't.

Some of us are trying to build for the community here rather than tear it apart. Lead - follow - or get of the way.
