Rod,
So far pretty much all the new reverbs sound a lot better than the old ones. I really like the DP4 Hall. The DP Pro Hall should be a welcome addition also. =20

Now where's my check book?

-----=_NextPart_000_002A_01C8B677.C4EB2F50--Hi Tom,

I love the DP/4 Hall, but the DP/PRO hall actually is a pretty nice step up. Having said that, It's good in a mix to use various sound spaces, so they are both useful. It really depends what you are after, too. The DP/4 Hall sounds more like a real hall, while the DP/Pro hall sounds more transparent - the sound just gets bigger and wider without necessarily noticing where the sound is. I just can't believe that Ensoniq didn't release these yearsd ago. These algos would have given them
