Dood.... there's only one monitor. WTF is up with that????

pabSounds like an SPL TD in software. I've got one of the 4 channel hardware units here. You can knock a hole through the wall with a kick or snare using this. It's sorta like having a loaded 12ga shotgun on an insert.

While the software can be cool, it is absolutely no match for the SPL unit.
The simplicity and the way it preserves the tone of the original while altering the attack is un-beatable, so far I might add. The release knob can do wonders on mic bleeds or if you want to prolong room sound.

Rick,

I'll give it a shot. Thanks!

hey tom,

wouldn't ya know it...i fire up the pc and now nothing works... anyhow, in the Devices>Midi Device Manager>Device Installer lists all the (most) keyboards and modules. This might be what you're looking for.

also Devices>Device Setup what default midi input shows up in the arrange window when you select the midi track the output should be the midi port and the input should be the instrument well i've got to get back out to the studio to see why i can step input from the pro 88 but not real time....hell it worked yesterday...go figure.

-----=_NextPart_000_0009_01C674F6.D25D1410--Hey Folks,

I recently put my "B" system to good use by recording some local Indie bands.
 The front end was an Allen & Heath GL 2200 direct to 16 trk mec 16 bit.
 I put about an hr of mix / clean up work into each tune and used very little fx or widening since it's not my music. I did get permission to post the samples though.

Here are the links - the files are wav not mp3s.

Rock on,
 Lance

We're pretty happy with the recording quality on this.
<http://www.qbdigital.com/philo.htm>

These guys were awesome but pretty loud.

The before and after mix is pretty amazing

---=_linux4463af8b--I believe there may have been revision(s) to this older bird-eye view which render it incorrect in some regard. I can't be sure except to say I'm sure that I recall a revision.

I'm relatively sure you can get a newer mobo/cpu combo that'll work, but of the new crop I pretty much just don't see anything with more than 3 PCI slots anyway.

Hope this finds itself useful to you,
AA

I choose Polesoft Lockspam to fight spam, and you?
<http://www.polesoft.com/refer.html>That does sound pretty good... Nice work!
