Vista can be made to look and behave almost the same as XP.
The UAC (Security pop ups) can be set to a less aggressive mode.
It can be disabled all together if you did it on a fresh install with no programs installed yet.)

All OS's have required more and more ram. Vista like OSX handles ram very differently than older OS versions do.
Allot of what is loaded into memory to improve program launching, task switching and multitasking.
It is true that some of the functions are a bit bloated. This will hopefully be improved over
