>I think the assertion message is from the somewhat sketchy native plug implimentation. Cujo has it right on handling the pending crash, but I usually save it under a different name in case I need to backtrack. Once I shut down, restart and reopen paris / the project, I see if the crash error is truly gone, and if so just proceed.. if it reoccurs, I still have my original PPJ file to fall back on.
