I looked at the patch cable I ran that worked with the new Mac and it is a Cat5e I thought it was a CAT6 but it is not.

Pulling cable is something I have been involved in for too damn many years, and of course, Aaron is right. It's not in conduit though.

Hey David, how did your stadium come out? I am doing a couple of churches and it is nice to be busy in this economy.

you all have a great weekend.
