they play on everyone's machines where some others do not. I do not use Sharpies. They can leach thru and destroy data. I use felt tip pens designed for CD-R's. They're not too hard to find.

>Hi Everyone

Haven't posted here in awhile because I just built a house and my Paris stuff is in boxes. My 3 year old son has an unusual interest in music and particular drums. I found this set on Craigslist and thought I might throw the 200 bucks at it.

<http://www.ecrater.com/product.php?pid=205279>

Obviously, it's hard to give much guidance on a set for a 3 year old, but any input would be appreciated. Right now he is banging on some makeshift drum toys and boxes and is the type to become fixated on things. I have a feeling he'll play it day and night for months on end (which could become really annoying, but we must promote the musical thing)

BarryI just ordered some Taiyo Yuden's. Where do you get the CD-R felt tip pens? Staples, Office Depot or somewhere else ?

thanks,

JohnThe only real concern is the size of the drums...they're way too big for a three year old.
