this for sale.

Unused since new, it's in an ideal sized PC desktop case with PSU etc and comes with a PCIE host card.

Paris runs fine with this as Mike Audet has proved and hence we know it works great with all the latest drivers etc.

I may also put it on ebay - but would love if it went to the Paris community.

I paid £250 for the Virtua Via motherboard and host card, plus the cost of the case and power supply.

Ideally I think I'd want £250.

You can message me or use the email which is my user name here anyway. Hi guys,

I am looking for a Paris 3.0 original CD in good condition with or without license.

Would also be interested in getting any other CD version of the software.

If you have one give me a holler

Cheers,

Carlos A. Hi Carlos.

There is a link to the version 3 installer on www.parisfaqs.com about half way down the page. The link is still active. There are also older versions there, and the scherzo driver v1.05 as well.

You don't really need the install CD. There is a wealth of info on parisfaqs, even though it hasn't been updated for a while.

Cheers,

Kim. Hiya Kurt,

I don't have time to do repairs for anyone anymore, but whenever I hear that someone is having intermittent pops, the first thing I think of is

It all needs to be working and tested, ideally in NYC for a local pickup.

I'm willing to buy from separate people, but my preference is to buy as a kit to save on shipping.

If you're looking unload and get out of the game and have a working system wi

You pay actual shipping with tracking# and import fees (if any)

I'll have to check how many I/O cards I have but I may have one or two of these as well. As with Don Nafe, I too had a monster Paris rig but have since switched to PT and all the Paris stuff is just sitting in the racks taking up space. I want to keep a small Paris se
