Now that's just fuckin' stupid... admit it. It was completely relevant and a direct (and fact-checkable) rebuttal to your assertion.

Neill'll agree with this sentiment overall.

Nice post.

I'm in total agreement here Neil the only problem with your scenario is, after you've done the first guy....there are 1000 more right behind him and half of the paying audience who came to watch this smack down is booing you cause they think you were a little hard on his sorry ass.

This is a religious war being waged by ignorant extremists who for whatever reason have decided we're the enemy and as we all know once you bring religion into the mix common sense and rational behavior go right out the window.

My few is nail the fuckers when you can find them, and make life absolutely miserable for those who are helping them.

More shit has been done in the name of God and quite frankly I think she's a tad pissed right about now.

again exceeding glad. But he spake once more unto the LORD God, saying, Lo, I am free to play in the Marketplace of the LORD, and have cheap labor in plenty; but to whom shall I sell my surplus fruit and realize a fortune thereby? </dd>

<dt>11</dt>

<dd> And the LORD God said unto himself, Verily, this is an Live One. </dd>
 <dt>12</dt>
 <dd> And he caused a deep sleep to fall upon Adam and he took from him one of his ribs, which was an spare rib. </dd>
 <dt>13</dt>
 <dd> And the spare rib which the LORD God had taken from the man, made he woman. And he brought her unto the man, saying: </dd>
 <dt>14</dt>
 <dd> This is Woman and she shall purchase your fruit; and ye shall realize a fortune thereby. For Man produceth and Woman consumeth, wherefore she shall be called the consumer. </dd>
 <dt>15</dt>
 <dd> And they were both decently clad, the Man and the Woman, from the neck even unto the ankles, so they were not ashamed.
 <h2>Chapter 3</h2>
 </dd>
 <dt>1</dt>
 <dd> Now the snake in the grass was more permissive than any beast of the field which the LORD God had made. And he said unto the woman, Why has thou accepted this lowly and submissive role? For art thou not human, even as the man is human? </dd>
 <dt>2</dt>
 <dd>And the woman said unto the snake in the grass, the LORD God hath ordained that I am placed under the man, and must do whatsoever he telleth me to do; for is he not the Man? </dd>
 <dt>3</dt>
 <dd> But the snake in the grass laughed an cunning laugh, and said unto the woman, Is it not right and just that thou shouldst fulfill thy potential? For art thou not comely in thy flesh, even as the man is comely in his flesh? </dd>
 <dt>4</dt>
 <dd> And the woman said, Nay, I know not, for hath not the LORD God clad us decently, from the neck even unto the ankles; and forbidden that we eat of the Tree of the Knowledge of Sex? </dd>
 <dt>5</dt>
 <dd> But the snake in the grass said unto the woman, whispering even into her very ear, saying, Whatsoever feeleth good, do thou
 it; and believeth thou me, it feeleth good. </dd>
 <dt>6</dt>
 <dd>And when the woman saw the fruit of the Tree of the Knowledge of Sex, that it was firm and plump and juicy, she plucked thereof, and sank her teeth therein, and gave also to her husband, and he likewise sank his teeth therein. </dd>
 <dt>7</dt>
 <dd>And the eyes of both of them were opened, and they saw that they were not naked. </dd>

<dt>8</dt>

<dd> And the woman loosened then Adam's uppermost garment, and he likewise loosened hers; and she loosened his nethermost garment, and the man then loosened her nethermost garment; until they were out of their garments both, and

likewise of their minds. </dd>

<dt>9</dt>

<dd> And, lo!, they did dance upon the grass of the ground, and they did rock backward, and roll forward continually; </dd>

<dt>10</dt>

<dd> And as they did rock and roll, the serpent that was cunning did play upon a stringed instrument of music, and did smite his tail upon the ground in an hypnotic rhythm, and he did sing

in a voice that was like unto four voices: She loveth you,

yea,

yea, yea. </dd>

<dt>11</dt>

<dd> And they did both twist and shout, and fall into a frenzy, both the man and the woman, and lay themselves upon the ground, and commit there abominations. </dd>

<dt>12</dt>

<dd> And when they were spent from their abominations, they did take the herb bearing seed, and did roll it and smoke it; and lo! it gaveth them ideas, even as the LORD God had said; and they were like to commit new abominations. </dd>

<dt>13</dt>

<dd> Now the LORD God was walking in the garden in the cool of the day, with his dog; and as Adam and his wife were beginning these new abominations, the LORD God did stub the toe of his

foot upon their hindermost quarters. </dd>

<dt>14</dt>

<dd> And the LORD God waxed wroth, and said unto Adam, Wherefore art thou naked? And what is that thou smokest? And why art thou not at thy work? For have I not said that it is the man's part to produce, and the part of the woman to consume whatever he produceth? </dd>

<dt>15</dt>

<dd> And Adam and his wife did look upon one another, and did giggle. </dd>

<dt>16</dt>

<dd> Whereupon the LORD God waxed exceeding wroth, and he said, Hast thou eaten of the tree, whereof I commanded thee that thou shouldst not eat? </dd>

<dt>17</dt>

<dd> And the man said, The woman whom you gavest to be with me made me do it. </dd>

<dt>18</dt>

<dd> And the LORD God said unto the woman, What is this that thou has done? And the woman said, The snake in the grass made me do it. </dd>

<dt>19</dt>

<dd> And the snake in the grass said, The devil made me do it. </dd>

<dt>20</dt>

<dd> And the LORD God said unto the snake in the grass, Thou art an permissive beast; wherefore art thou cursed to crawl upon thy belly, and be made into belts and boots and handbags hereafter. </dd>

<dt>21</dt>

<dd> Unto the woman He said, Since thou has harkened unto the snake in the grass which is broad-of-mind and permissive; henceforth let it be thy lot to be confused and scattered in thy brains, and to be pla my friends you are surely missing the point.

The idea that you should keep killing "them" before they kill you is is pretty sociopathic I think. Please remember a few important things about the "war".

Let's start with "them". The dehumanizing of others is an important diagnostic point in the evalutation of pathological personality disorders. Underlying this is the idea that one is not harming a "person" but a "thing" or "non-person". It allows the ego to remain intact while performing otherwise unthinkable actions.

But who are "them"? For the most part they are normal, everyday famillies like yours and mine. Shop keepers, TV reparimen, gas station attendants, secretaries....who only want to live freely, in peace, raising their famillies and living their lives. "They" are not, for the most part, combatants. Or they weren't before the US got their.

The US has done more harm in this region, to the people and their country, than Saddam ever could have. The US, in it's quest for middle-east domination vis-a-vis their oil supply, has turned a thriving people (albeit with nasty leadership) into an impoverished, toxic wastland.

And for you who can't see the forest for the trees, let me make the fairly-fucking-clear observation that if you have a natural resource that someone else wants and they decide to come and get it from you by force (the Chinese could do this) You will be labeled "insurgents" and you wives and children will suddenly become "enemy combatants". Oh, what, if someone invades you you're gonna sit on your fat ass and let them take you home? No, you are gonna fight them off, you nasty terrorist scum...or so you would be labeled in the media of the nation invading you. (quite likely in the name of God)

Wake up you collective heads of knuckle. What the hell do you think's going on over there? It's people deffending their land, their homes and their lives from - F

I think if there's room & resources enough for both Israelis & Palestinians in the region they want to live in, I think they should quit fighting & come up with a plan. HOWEVER... this is essentially a 3,000 year-old family feud we're looking at over there, and my point of view may be a little too simplistic to deal with the situation. I am not very familiar with the condition of the agricultural situation there, but I understand it's not the best in the world - in that case, both sides should realize that there may not be enough resources in that immediate area to provide for as many people as want to live there... that's a problem, because you can't import everything food-wise. Israel is our ally, and we should stand by them, but I also hold the position that some kind of solution could be osed it to no avail. XXXXX's organization, the NY branch of the XXX XXXX , no longer leases from the Port Authority. They were disgusted with the PA's handling of the 1993 bombing and were never completely satisfied with their #7 offices. Even though Larry Silverstein is the leaseholder, it is still a PA property, and they want nothing to do with them anymore.

Somewhere in my old files from my old computer I have images from people who were <there> on 9-11; I rec'd these within days of the event. Some were from firefighters, some from private citizens

. I seem to recall a photo of #7 pre-collapse where you can see the horrific damage to the facade. I'll see if I can find it.

I want to throttle these conspiracy geeks whose political hatred for good people has foisted such time-wasting energy on the public.

He suggests reading this report to debunk the conspiracy theories about 911.

BTW, I do not believe that any of these structural engineers would lie and corrupt themselves to protect the gummint. They would be called on it in a heartbeat by all the other ones.

We do now. Remember 911? Pearl Harbor? Everyone knows someone who lost someone in either Vietnam, Korea, or WWII.

We do not have a romantic picture of war. That is a myth.

>As far as I can understand in readings and seeing, the human feelings

This is simply not the case. I am a northerner who has lived and travelled in the south and I can tell you that no one in the north cares about the civil war, at least as far as having personal feelings about it, and very few in the south do. We are united. I love the south BTW, Memphis, Nashville, New Orleans. Wonderful places.

arrgghhh! How can you say that? If we had that mentality, what would we have done after the first WTC bombing?
What would we have done in the first gulf war?

Why don't you recognize that it was european and UN corruption and collusion with Saddam that prevented their supporting us, not a more patient and less violent nature. Shoot first?? Do you think that is supportable? c'mon Erling. You guys get your

I dont think there was pods on the planes, or bombs or remote control or any of that crap. I just think theres some type of coverup and the only smoking gun is WTC7, and the insider trading.

Here's a better video of it:

http://www.911research.com/wtc/evidence/videos/docs/wtc7\_col\_lapse2.mpg

Who knows, maybe I'm wrong, but I dont really see too much structural damage to the facade.>> What the hell do I care about the palestinian's point of view?

>I'll just remind you of what you said in another thread:

>> Making anyone the devil is stupid because the more dangerous

>> they are, the more you must truly understand them, as opposed >> to making them a cardboard cutout of evil.

So, when someone breaks into your home to kill you, do you ask about their point of view? Try to understand them? Theorize about their resorting to murder because they have no other options?

Nah, you'd cap 'em wouldn't you?

Now, if they want to sit down and relax, tell you about their hard life and unfair treatment, you may become a friend and help them out, but if they are skulking around you with a gun, they deserve to get toasted.

You re-contextualized my comment, which was about political leaders. It's stupid to make Bush, Clinton, Schroeder, etc into "evil" since the truth is always more complex than that. It is with the palestinians too, but is irrelevant as long as they are bombing innocent people.

DCwhere do you guys find the time and desire to bang out such long posts? i gotta stop now...fingers tired.
