Seriously Chuck,
I gladly bought those bad boys when they came out and have used them all ever since. I did download the whole ubangy and loaded them into a local Paris user's comp=20 who isn't connected with the Newsgroup. He was overjoyed.

So a thank you from me on his behalf.
THANK YOU CHUCK !!! You always be da Man.

-----=_NextPart_000_001D_01C65913.A124EC00--Hey Gene! Somewhere around here I think I have a SP2 upgrade disc. If you need it, I would mail it to you. It sounds like that won't help you though.
Let me know, and I'll see if I can find it.

I here with SP2 there is a lot of connecting to the mother ship. If Bill could only read people's minds remotely;)

I just installed Wavelab Essential to do some mastering.Do I need to get a soundcard or can I use the PARIS hardware with the ASIO driver for Wavelab?

If I can use the PARIS hardware does the Paris app need to opened to do this.

Sorry for the rudimentary questions,but its late and I don't feel like thinking.

Thanks,

PeteThere exists an ASIO driver, but I don't think it's ready to use. A few ppl have been able to do so, but many more had shaky to no luck. Get a card, save yourself the hassles.

I am s-l-o-w-l-y developing but not enough to use them.

I should present them to my really smart friend though?!?!
He was interested in helping the bug fix cause when that was shot down technically.

I'm so slow,
