get him to the emergency room and the neurosurgeon looks at the Xray and says, "We can save this guy, but it will be a very long and difficult operation.
It will be very risky, but I think we can do it"

They roll the patient in for surgery and get under way. It takes five hours of stabilizing the patient just enough so that they can attempt to remove the bullet. The doctor finally attaches the hemostat onto the shell and contemplates removing the thing from the patient's brain. He starts to sweat profusely, knowing that one wrong move could turn this guy's brain into oatmeal. Seeing his state, his nurse turns to him and says, "Relax doctor. Hugely happy,
Tom

PS Do you use the Drumagog 'recorded files' often?
I've never tried them. A quick run through would also be great!

44.1 version 3.0 windows xp
Bounce panned center, raise vol up 2.9 for accurate level Bounce panned hard left or Right, down 0.1 for accurate level

Note: all latencies assume the use of FXPansion 3.3 Other versions or =

will most likely yeild different results (for wrapped plugs like the UAD) I know the older version of expansion = had a little lower latency, but had an annoying bogus error screen =

I used it. Also, I find it easier to hit the "100" nudge button only, = instead of a combo nudge, like Tom uses..so my sample slide numbers will be a = different.

t figured out to = what). I lost all my presets to all my plugins. C drive #1 still has them but paris = wasn't acting right
and crashing when loading two different projects.

Can you enlighten me on exactly the right method with the the wrapper? =20
Don't check rescan existing plugs?=20
Also where are they exactly so I can copy them from C drive 1 to 2.

When I switched to C drive #2 (UAD ver 4.4) the latency was different. = C drive #1 had been working fine until last night at both sample rates. Maybe my = wordclock
is screwy.

Maybe because the presets are gone Sampleslide is not set correctly? I = use it for less than 100 samples using my method and latency is like 300ms+ = different now.

Man . . .

Tom, the UAD latency is different for 48k than 44.1. This is true for = all versions of the UAD software. The latency hasn't changed though, from = earlier versions of the software, unless you've changed to a different = wrapper.

Don't know why your other 44.1 ppjs didn't play at the right latency = though.

On the FXpansion wrapper....unless you add/update stuff in EXACTLY the = right method, you will lose your presets. The way you described what you = did.....you
would have lost them.

Sounds like when you tried going back to 4.3 everything went haywire. =
The best bet is to totally uninstall the UAD and re-install it, unless = you have a previous ghost image (I hope you do), then just re-ghost.
