hat's bad enough, but then came PARIS Pro. Yikes, redundantly obvious. If you can't continue to develop a product, stick another "Pro" on the end.

Maybe we'll yet see an upgrade to "PARIS Pro Professional," which will be the same but red.

The Mac Pro it's more likely to be bought for professional use than the other Mac models based on features and price. But I still like "PowerMac" better as a name. Mmmm, POWER!

My PowerMac is a combination slide rule/sandwich maker. DeeJ's Frankenbox is a combination easy bake oven/time soak. Your box sounds like a combination back scratcher/contemplater. We all get what we want, want a sandw

Heh. What a racket, eh?

On the plus side, ProTools is better now than it was when PARIS was young. But so are some other worthy choices.

example from a Walmart memo banning a Mr. Bill Fenton from the store.:

MEMO

Re: Mr. Bill Fenton - Complaints - 15 Things Mr. Bill Fenton has done while his spouse/partner was shopping:

1. June 15, took 24 boxes of condoms and randomly put them in people's carts when they weren't looking.
2. July 2, set all the alarm clocks in Housewares to go off at 5-minute intervals.
3. July 7, made a trail of tomato juice on the floor leading to the rest rooms.
4. July 19, walked up to an employee and told her in an official tone, "Code
3 in Housewares..." and watched what happened.
5. August 4, went to the Service Desk and asked to put a bag of M&M's on layaway.

6. September 14, moved a "CAUTION - WET FLOOR" sign to a carpeted area.
7. September 15, set up a tent in the camping department and told other shoppers he'd invite them in if they'll bring pillows from the bedding department.
8. September 23: When a clerk asks if they can help him, he begins to cry and asks, "Why can't you people just leave me alone?"
9. October 4: Looked right into the security camera; used it as a mirror, and picked his nose.
10. November 10: While handling guns in the hunting department, asked the clerk if he knows where the antidepressants are.
11. December 3: Darted around the store suspiciously, loudly humming the "Mission Impossible" theme.
12. December 6: In the auto department, practiced his "Madonna look" using different size funnels.
13. December 18: Hid in a clothing rack and when people browsed through, yelled "PICK ME!PICK ME!"
14. December 21: When an announcement came over the loud speaker, he assumed the fetal position and screamed, "NO! NO!
It's those voices again!!!!"
15. December 23: Went into a fitting room, shut the door and waited a while; then, yelled, very loudly, "There is no toilet paper in here!"

SarahSounds like a lot of good choices, actually... Paris will probably still find a way to make itself useful within all that flexibility you have there...

It should be interesting to see your report on how this all comes together -- looking forward to that... Good luck with it, and keep us posted...

I must say that having those white cones staring out at me does provide some sense of having joined the "club" ;o). I've been experimenting with the crunchiness factor but I'm using an amp right now that really isn't up the task of driving these without a little bit of distortion when cranked to levels of 85+ dB so the crunchiness is being exasperated by the distortion.
Moving them further back and further apart does mitigate the harshness a bit, but I'm really going to have to wait until my new power amp shows up to dial this in and experiment more. I'll likely be doing a lot of switching back and forth with these and my other reference system.
